

Reported explosion at Helena sign shop injures 1 person

Posted: May 10, 2011 3:21 PM by Melissa Anderson (Helena)

Updated: May 10, 2011 3:47 PM

A Helena man was injured during an apparent explosion at the Yesco sign shop on Carter Drive on Tuesday.

Emergency crews responded to the accident at about 11:30 am.

The incident was reported to the 911 call center saying that a man was hurt while sandblasting.

First responders reported the man was knocked unconscious and had a faint pulse.

It's not yet known exactly what occurred.

The name of the man has not been released, nor his condition, but he was taken to St. Peter's hospital by ambulance.

Helena police are investigating the incident.

We will update you as we learn more.